

Bedford 2844's Carl Wells Gives Clothing to Salem VAMC

Volunteers from Bedford Elks Lodge 2844 delivered the items in the cold of January and with rain mixed in.

Accepting the donations for the VA Medical Center are (far left) Ann Benois, Chief of Voluntary Service and (far right) Terri McGuigan of the same department. Elks Lodge members (L-R) Jim Hueber, Chairman of the Lodge Veterans Committee, Roy McGuire and Carl Wells, who made the donation to the VAMC on behalf of the Lodge.

Carl Wells, Bedford Elks Lodge 2844 member and owner of D. Reynolds Designer Clothing, donated several thousand dollars worth of clothing to the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Salem. Wells, who is closing his men's clothing store in Bedford after 35 years in business, donated the remainder of the store's inventory of men's clothing in the name of the Bedford Elks Lodge. The clothing included suits, sport coats, pants, shirts, shoes, belts and many other items.
